

Platform for Digital Networking and Innovation

25 September 2025

The SRC-EDIH project (European Digital Innovation Hub) is aimed at promoting digital transformation, innovation, and networking between companies, research institutions, and the public sector.

As part of the project, we have established a digital platform that enables:

- access to experts and services in the fields of digitalization, artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, data technologies, and robotics,
- collaboration with other organizations that develop and use advanced digital solutions,
- opportunities to participate in projects, pilots, and calls for proposals,
- an overview of current events, news, and funding opportunities.

The Innovation Arena represents a dynamic space where new ideas and solutions connected to the latest technological trends are born. The Innovation Arena encourages collaboration between companies and researchers with the goal of achieving development and success.

 We invite organizations to register on the SRC-EDIH platform and become part of the community that is building the digital future of the region and Europe.

Join us today  <https://www.src-edih.net>

Together, we are creating an environment where knowledge, innovation, and technology bring new development opportunities.

This announcement supports the goals of the SRC-EDIH project.