

17th Mikrografija Conference 2025

16 October 2025

At the Four Points by Sheraton Mons Ljubljana.

Registration Fee

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required as available spots are limited.

In collaboration with Mikrografija d.o.o., we invite you to the 17th Mikrografija Conference. At the conference, we will explore how modern technologies and advanced practices enhance the performance and resilience of companies. The conference will bring together leading experts and practitioners who will present the latest trends in digital transformation, information management, and innovative approaches organizations can use to successfully respond to future challenges. Don't miss this opportunity for inspiring best practice examples and insights into solutions that are shaping the digital future.

You are kindly invited!

Programme Highlights:

- Advanced solutions for secure document management
- Mass digitization and the future of information management
- Digital transformation in public administration
- Optimization of business processes in organizations
- Latest trends in digital signing
- Artificial intelligence and smart solutions in information management
- Best practice case studies

More about the conference programme >

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required as available spots are limited.

For additional information: info@mikrografija.si, 080 51 15.

The event is aligned with the mission and objectives of the SRC-EDIH project.