

Gathering of members of the Section for Environment and Energy in Kaval

Section for Environment and Energy (SOE) of the GZDBK has invited the members to a meeting at the Bistro Kaval in Brusnice. Summer is the time and the perfect opportunity to move the meetings to a slightly less formal setting.

At the beginning we held the Members' Meeting of the Section for Environment and Energy, which was chaired by the president of the section, Slavko Zupančič, from Krka, d.d. He presented the past activities and the plan for the future work of the section.

This was followed by the presentation of the Report: Matchmaking and brokerage need assessment report and ecosystem building strategy SRC-EDIH, prepared by the GZDBK in the framework of the SRC-EDIH project. Within the framework of the SRC-EDIH ecosystem, the development of our society, the development of the economy and the development of working people are the common thread throughout the project. Slovenia has adopted key strategies in 2022 that follow the EU recommendations for the digital development of the economy and society. We note, that the key challenge we face in development, is the lack of adequate human and financial resources. The SRC-EDIH project, through its services, offers a hand to organisations in both the public and private spheres to make development shifts a little easier. An important development thrust is the green transition, which we understand as an innovative, low-carbon, digital and knowledge-based transformation of the economy and society. Regularly establishing and maintaining contacts with industry, business, investors, academia and other relevant stakeholders is emphasised.

The meeting ended with a social gathering and exchange of views over a banquet.

Membership of the Section for Environment and Energy (SOE) is free for all employees of GZDBK member companies. Join the Section >

The event takes place as part of the SRC-EDIH project.
